WHAT'S NEW

ROYAL TREATMENT

The Federalist sheds light on traditional beauty with the Queen Anne-style ceiling mount lantern. Made of serpentine glass and cast brass, the fixture illuminates your home with an air of timelessness and elegance. $1,194 (9.5-by-12.25-by-12.25-inches), The Federalist, Greenwich, 203-625-4727, thefederalistonline.com.

COLONIAL BACKING

Robert Allen's Williamsburg Classics III collection catches the eye with bold colors and stunning prints. The punchy blend of reds, pinks and greens in the floral Kingsmill fabric (shown here in Colonial) enlivens this classic 18th-century motif. $38.95 per yard, Robert Allen Design, through DesignSourceCT, Hartford, 860-931-3145, designsourcect.com, robertallendesign.com.

AN OLD FLAME

Chesney's reproduces the late British architect Sir Edwin Lutyen's classic mantels with the Lutyens No. 3. The mantel features classical white marble inlaid with Bruxelles Noir marble. The result: an unusual design that makes a subtle yet powerful statement. $9,520, Chesney's, D&D, 646-840-0609, chesneys.com.
